

Unit 3 — Digital Lives at Work

Track G+M • Klasse 10 • Niveau G/M

Learning objectives

- I can read a short text on remote / hybrid work and identify the writer's stance.
- I can use gerunds and to-infinitives after verbs of preference.
- I can write a 150-word opinion piece on remote vs. office work.

Lead-in

Maja's older sister works hybrid: two days at home, three at the office. She enjoys working from her kitchen table — the cat, the smell of coffee, no commute. She also misses being able to walk to a colleague's desk and ask a small question. Both things are true at the same time, which is, Maja thinks, what hybrid really means.

Vocabulary

- remote work
- hybrid
- on-site
- video call
- asynchronous
- synchronous
- time zone
- work-life balance
- digital fatigue
- coworking space
- freelance
- team channel

Key points

- After enjoy, miss, admit, finish, mind, suggest, avoid, recommend, can't help: gerund (-ing).
- After want, plan, decide, choose, hope, refuse, agree, manage, learn: to-infinitive.
- After like, love, hate, prefer, start, begin, continue: both forms with very small meaning shift.

Practise

- Choose: gerund or to-infinitive: I enjoy _____ (work) from home. I plan _____ (apply) for a remote job.
- Match: enjoy → -ing; want → to-infinitive; admit → -ing.
- Build 5 sentences using 5 different verbs that take gerund vs. to-infinitive.

Your turn

Opinion piece, 150 words. Should young workers look for hybrid jobs? Take a position. Use 2 gerunds + 2 to-infinitives + 1 despite/because of.

Reflect

- I can read a remote-work text and find the stance.
- I can choose gerund or to-infinitive after a verb.
- I can write a 150-word opinion piece on a workplace topic.
